Twenty-sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Today's message from the first and last readings is that the rich were self-centered, enjoying a life of luxury and insensitivity while the poor suffered around them. It would have been better if the rulers of Judah and Israel, and the rich man, had paid attention to St. Paul's message that we heard from the First Letter of Paul to Timothy, "Fight the good fight of the faith."

Today's First Reading from the Book of Amos [Amos 6:1-14] is the last of three woes that the Lord God promised to inflict upon Judah and Israel because of their evil deeds. These nations had rulers who were idle, insensitive to the need of the poor and lived in luxury. Accordingly, God said that they would be taken into exile.

The Gospel Reading has a similarity. Again we heard of luxury and insensitivity. The rich man lived like a king and was totally insensitive to the needs of Lazarus. The difference in the Gospel of Luke versus the Book of Amos is that in the former reading, we heard of the outcome of such behavior. While the rich man may have been blessed with great luxury, he was only successful for a time. When he died, he could not take his luxury with him in the afterlife. None of his luxury could defend him against the judgment that awaited him. In fact, his luxury condemned him.

When Jesus related this story, His intent was to spiritually awaken the Pharisees who were fond of money. As Luke 16:14 tells us, they "heard all this, and they ridiculed Him." The Pharisees had elevated themselves to the extent that no one, not even Jesus, could correct them for their own salvation. They were beyond reproach.

Vigésimo Sexto Domingo Del Tiempo Ordinario

El mensaje de hoy de la primera y última lectura es que los ricos eran egocéntricos, disfrutando de una vida de lujo e insensibilidad mientras que los pobres sufrían alrededor de ellos. Hubiera sido mejor si los gobernantes de Judá e Israel, y el hombre rico, hubieran prestado atención al mensaje de San Pablo que hemos escuchado de la primera carta de Pablo a Timoteo: "Pelea la buena batalla de la fe."

La primera lectura de hoy del libro de Amós [Amós 6: 1-14] es la última de las tres advertencias que el Señor Dios prometió imponer sobre Judá e Israel debido a sus malas acciones. Estas naciones tenían gobernantes que eran ociosos, insensibles a las necesidades de los pobres y vivían en el lujo. En consecuencia, Dios dijo que serían llevados al exilio.

El Evangelio tiene una similitud. Una vez más oímos del lujo y la insensibilidad. El hombre rico vivía como un rey y era totalmente insensible a las necesidades de Lázaro. La diferencia en el Evangelio de Lucas en comparación con el libro de Amós es que en la primera lectura, hemos oído de los resultados de este tipo de comportamiento. Mientras que el hombre rico puede haber sido bendecido con gran lujo, él sólo tuvo éxito durante un tiempo. Cuando murió, no pudo llevar su lujo con él al más allá. Ninguno de sus lujos le podía defender contra la sentencia que le esperaba. De hecho, su lujo lo condenó.

Cuando Jesús contó esta historia, su intención era despertar espiritualmente a los fariseos que estaban apegados al dinero. Como Lucas 16:14 nos dice, que ellos "escucharon todo esto, y se burlaron de él." Los fariseos se habían elevado a sí mismos en la medida en que nadie, ni siquiera Jesús, podía corregirlos para su propia salvación. Ellos eran irreprochables.

The Redaction Request Form can be obtained by calling 866-649-8726, ext. 582 or downloading it at <http://nj.gov/health/forms/reg-36c.pdf>.

The Catholic Church has always supported reunions between adoptees and birth parents, if such reunions were by mutual consent. The Church continues to do so through their Catholic Charities agencies.

If you know individuals that could be affected by the changes to New Jersey Adoption law, please help alert them. Anyone needing assistance can call a HELPLINE at 609-989-4809.

La partida de nacimiento incluirá los nombres de los padres biológicos que dieron al niño o niña en adopción, excepto en los casos en que los padres biológicos soliciten la supresión de sus datos.

Los padres biológicos que deseen proteger su privacidad deberán enviar un Formulario de Pedido de Supresión de Datos al Departamento de Salud de Nueva Jersey antes del 31 de diciembre del 2016.
